

ZOLOTOI PLYOS

Sponsored by: OISS, RCAF, James Madison College, Department of Theater, Center for European, Russian, and Eurasian Studies and the Department of Linguistics, Germanic, Slavic, Asian, and African Languages

Zolotoi Plyos is Aleksandr, Yelena, and Sergei, a three-piece folk band from the Saratov Conservatory in southern Russia.

Between the three of them, they play over 20 authentic folk instruments (дудки, ложки, балалайки, and гармошки to name a few), and perform completely in traditional dress.

Russian Club and its sponsors are proud to bring Zolotoi Plyos to MSU's campus for a fun night of Russian music and culture.
